WAOUH

Molitor opened in 1929, and for 60 years was the most popular swimming pool in Paris.

It closed its doors in 1989 and was listed as an historic monument; graffiti artists then invaded the building turning it into a huge space for self expression, then gradually it became the temple of the Paris underground.

You certainly noticed when you arrived the black and white columns from LeMoDuLeDeZeeR, or the giant photographer child represented by Mr Brainwash.

There are still plenty of works to be discovered on the walls, at the corner of a corridor and in the winter pool's cabins.

With the M.A.P. or through a private visit leads by our Art Director, find the works of urban contemporary art of all those who have invested Molitor since its reopening.
